Summer 2016

Summer & Post-Graduation Use of Lexis, Westlaw, & Bloomberg Law

Lexis
Continuing students have uninterrupted access to Lexis Advance. You are permitted to use your ID for any kind of summer employment including law firm, court and government positions. Graduating students will have access with their Lexis IDs until 12/31/2016. In addition, graduates going to work for a public interest group may apply for an ASPIRE ID, which allows a full year of post-graduate access.

Westlaw
Summer access to Westlaw is permitted only for academic purposes, including summer courses, study abroad programs, law journal work, research assistant positions and unpaid internships and externships. If you need access for one of those purposes, apply for an extension of your ID at the Summer Extension link inside Westlaw. Graduating students can extend access through November 2016. Use the Grad Elite link inside Westlaw to fill out a survey and apply for an extension.

Bloomberg
Bloomberg passwords remain fully active over the summer and may be used for research during any kind of summer employment. Graduates automatically keep full access for six months following graduation.

Online Resources for Bar Prep
Taking the bar exam this summer? Make sure to consult our research guide for bar preparation: libguides.law.cua.edu/bar. Among the many sources featured are links to all past MPTs and point sheets, as well as to the entire set of past MEEs.

Library Noise
The library is due for a major refreshing this summer, with all new carpeting to be installed on the main level and staircase. We hope you will appreciate the new look, and apologize in advance for any noise and disruption that may occur. The work is scheduled to begin on June 1, and should take about four weeks to complete.

Bar Review Titles
Don’t forget to check out our bar review materials located in the reference room. These useful sets, including Finz and Rigos, can be checked out for one week with one renewal. Find practice exams, outlines and more!
