NEW HEINONLINE DATABASES
The Law Library recently added two new databases to the HeinOnline library collection. The first database, Reports of U.S. Presidential Commissions and Other Advisory Bodies, is the most current and comprehensive listing of publications created by presidential advisory bodies, and will be useful to researchers interested in U.S. history, political science, and law. Presidents have created such advisory groups (also called committees, commissions, boards, blue ribbon panels, or task forces) to advise them on particular problems or issues such as Pearl Harbor, civil rights, the status of women, the assassination of JFK, the 1967 riots, Iran Contra, HIV/AIDS, the Challenger Space Shuttle accident, and 9/11.

The second database is the much anticipated addition of the United States Congressional Serial Set (Phase 1), commonly known as the Serial Set. Spanning more than two centuries (1817-present), and with more than 17,000 bound volumes, the records in this series include House and Senate Documents, as well as House and Senate Reports, and much more. The reports are usually from congressional committees dealing with proposed legislation and issues under investigation. The documents include all other papers ordered printed by the House or Senate.

WESTLAW EDGE
This month Westlaw introduced its new legal research platform, Westlaw Edge, to faculty and staff (law students will transition to the new platform in the New Year). Although there are many new features associated with Westlaw Edge, the most notable changes include an enhanced, artificial intelligence driven citator that is more predictive than past versions, and an artificial intelligence powered search algorithm that is better able to provide quick and accurate answers to specific legal research problems. A more detailed discussion of Westlaw Edge will appear in the next issue of the Library Newsletter.
